RETIREMENT OF DEBT IS ISSUE IN TAX FIGHT

Debate Starts On Bill To Slash Taxes; Senate Is Divided

INSURGENTS MAY HELP REGULARS

Rival Camps Begin Bitter Warfare; Warning Is Made by Treasury

Washington, May 3.—The most important fiscal issue facing the American government lay beneath the surface warfare today in the senate fight over the new tax reduction bill.

The senate was divided into two camps on the question of debt retirement, one faction contending that the present generation should carry the burden of paying the debt while the other favored its gradual refunding over a period involving future generations.

This was the real issue as debate started over the administration plan for a $203,000,000 tax reduction and the Democratic substitute for a $336,000,000 slash.

The insurgents were reported ready to line up with the administration on the smaller reduction plan as they favor using all treasury surpluses for the retirement of war debts. A year ago, Senator Norris (R.), of Nebraska sponsored the resolution which directed the treasury to use a $400,000,000 surplus or debt retirement.

In the 10 years since the war, the public debt has been slashed from 26 to 18 billion dollars. Another billion dollars will be repaid by June 30, the end of the current fiscal year. Of this nine billion dollar slash, all but a few hundred millions came from general taxation, although the original debt retirement law provided that only one-half of the debt—or $13,000,000,000—should be repaid by general taxation over a period of 40 years. The other half was to come from foreign repayments.

Warning in Background
The treasury department, aided by congress, has devoted nine billion dollars in the 10-year period instead of the $3,250,000,000 contemplated by the law. The Wilson administration started it, and the Harding and Coolidge administrations kept it up. (Continued on page 4)

CHICKS PERISH AS HOUSE BURNS

Binsley's Brooder House Destroyed; 150 Chicks Lose Lives

Two fires Wednesday afternoon, one of them while the fire force was still out on the first call, brought the year's total of fires past the 50 mark, 11 more than May 3, 1927.

The first call was received at 1:16. A grass lot on Prospect st. had caught fire and was easily extinguished in 15 minutes by the force.

While the firemen were still on this call, at 1:30, a call was received from F. C. Binsley, Lincoln rd. At the Binsley home the brooder house in the rear of the home was found almost completely burned. One hundred and fifty chicks were burned in the fire.

The house, adjacent to the burning building, was scorched, but firemen kept it from catching. The roof of the wagon house, nearby, had also caught fire but was extinguished before much damage was done to it.

At 8:40 p. m. Wednesday firemen were called to the 52nd fire of the year, and Wednesday's fifth. A field of grass near Tolerton's farm on Depot rd. had caught fire.

New Columbus To Is Made by Plane

Columbus, O., May 3.—A new air speed record between Columbus and Cleveland was believed established yesterday when Lieut. John K. Gillo and Sgt. Charles R. Lynn, Ohio national guard, flew to this city in 55 minutes. The air distance between the two cities is 130 miles.

The two flyers are attached to the 112th aero squadron of the Ohio national guard.

WOMAN DECLARES PASTEUR WRONG

Mrs. Helen M. Steinfeld, fellow of the University of California, has just recently made public the result of an exhaustive scientific investigation, which, she says, shows Pasteur was wrong and bacteria are not necessary to life. Two colonies of fruit flies were used in the tests, one nurtured under absolutely aseptic conditions, while the other was bred under the normal conditions of prevalent bacteria. Her findings, which have raised a furor in scientific circles, show that the flies brought up under the conditions of absolute freedom from bacteria lived 14 per cent. longer than those which were allowed to develop under normal conditions.

CAREY HIT BY $100,000 FIRE

Mill and Elevator Burn In Heart of Business Section of Town

Carey, O., May 3.—Property loss of $100,000 was suffered in an early morning blaze in the heart of the business section here today which destroyed the Carey Mill & Elevator Corporation.

The fire also destroyed 7,000 bushels of wheat, 3,000 bushels of oats, one carload of flour and a quantity of bran and rye, which was stored in the elevator.

Fire departments from Findlay, Postoria and Upper Sandusky were called before the fire was brought under control. The fire started at 2 a. m. and was still burning at daylight.

Nearby buildings were threatened. The First National bank building was damaged and business was suspended for today.

D. C. Henry is general manager of the mill and elevator concern. Cause of the fire is as yet undetermined.

This is the second spectacular fire to strike this city within the past ten days. A week ago the Carey Porcelain plant was destroyed when a property loss of $125,000.

Girl Stars Uphold Athletics With Proper Supervision

San Francisco, May 3.—Comment of varied character was forthcoming today, following the declaration of Pope Pius which decried the admission of young women to competition in an athletic meeting to be held in Rome next month.

Girl athletes who have participated in competition were emphatic in upholding such activities.

Leaders in the instruction of physical education were inclined to make statements of qualification.

Miss Helen Jacobs, ranking woman amateur tennis player, said: "Build Fine Traditions
The women athletes of today are splendid representatives of their country. They have helped to build fine traditions that not only enrich

HOPE FADES FOR SETTLEMENT OF LAKE COAL RATES

Ohio and West Virginia Operators Are Just "Sitting In"

STAR CHAMBER CONFERENCE ON

Railroad Officials' Plan Of 10 Cents Reduction Is Turned Down

Cincinnati, May 3.—Hope for a settlement of the 10-year-old lake cargo coal rates battle faded today when Ohio and West Virginia coal operators announced that they would take no part in the session which got under way at noon today.

The Ohio and West Virginia operators, on advice of their attorneys, they reported, will sit in with southern coal operators and the officers of carrier companies but will not take part in the discussion, unless specifically called upon.

As the session opened at the Gibson Hotel, all newsmen were barred, though before entering the star chamber, Ohio and West Virginia coal operators alike declared that there was no hope for the rate battle between northern and southern coal operators and carriers.

The purpose of the meeting was to have been a compromise on a coal carrying rate schedule to eliminate the keen competition for coal business to Canada and the northwest. A proposal which railroad men hoped would end the bitter war of a decade was that the northern carriers would agree to make a voluntary decrease of 10 cents in their coal tariff schedule from the coal fields of the Pittsburgh district to Lake Erie points for lake cargo coal, and that the southern lines would agree to raise their rates 10 cents, and so create a differential in favor of operators in western Pennsylvania, eastern Ohio, and the Fairmont district of West Virginia.

Atterbury at Meeting
The complaining operators had demanded a straight 20 cents per ton reduction to equalize a 20-cent reduction made by southern carriers.

Among the prominent coal and railroad officials present at the opening session were H. L. Finley, of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad; Gen. W. W. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania; Arch Fries, vice-president in charge of traffic of the Baltimore and Ohio; and C. E. Needles, president of the Norfolk and Western; W. J. Hanrahan, of the Chesapeake and Ohio; P. W. Whitaker, vice-president of the Chesapeake and Ohio; C. E. Crowley, president of the New York Central lines; W. R. Cole, of Louisville and Nashville railroad; Elijah Lee, vice-president in charge of traffic of the Erie; Joseph Purdove, representing Ohio coal operators; W. M. Duncan of the Wheeling and Lake Erie road, and F. E. Taplin of the Pittsburgh and West Virginia road.

The Fairmont, West Virginia operators were represented by C. H. Jenkins and F. E. Peabody, while the operators of the mines in the Morgantown territory were represented by Howard Showalter and A. H. Gilbert.

KICK ON RURAL ELECTRIC RATES

Columbus, May 3.—Charging that electrical power concerns are making too much profit in cities and should divide it with residents of rural territory, Atty. Charles H. Hubbell, Cleveland, and residents of Columbiana, Portage, Richland, Montgomery, Greene, Miami, Clinton, Fayette and other counties served by the Ohio Public Service and the Dayton Power & Light companies, today filed complaints with the State Utilities Commission.

Insisting that these concerns are charging excessive, unjust and illegal rates for electrical service in rural territory as well as in cities and villages, the complainants requested the commission to conduct hearings at county seats of the territory affected, fix valuations of the properties of the companies and then determine just rates and charges.

Fireworks Plant At Uhrichsville Razed

Uhrichsville, O., May 3.—The Fourth of July celebration of many a youth is going to have a depressing year, it was indicated today.

The plant of the Kilgore Manufacturing company, manufacturers of pistols and pistol caps, was smoldering in ruins today following a fire caused by the explosion of pistol caps on a work bench.

A carload of caps on a railroad siding next to the factory exploded from the flames.

Thirty employees of the company escaped without injury. Loss was estimated at $35,000.

VICE CONSUL TO SHANGHAI STILL MISSING TODAY

Shanghai, May 3.—United States Vice Consul Walter B. Wilson, was still missing today.

Detectives are scouring the countryside around Shanghai, Soochow and Hangchow. They said that Wilson had written letters to friends hinting that he might take his own life.

The vice consul was fond of taking long hikes and one police theory is that he may have gone to some isolated spot in the country and committed suicide.

REGULATION OF ROAD HOUSES IS P. T. A. DEMAND

Proposal Introduced At Cleveland Convention One of Many

Cleveland, May 3.—Many proposals were to be presented today to the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in convention here, among them being a request that the organization go on record for regulation and supervision of night clubs and road houses.

"Loose operating road houses and night clubs are daily launching their quota of young people on the road to bad morals," said Mrs. William Tilton, of Cambridge, Mass., chairman of the congress' legislative committee.

"Youth is attracted to these places as an adventurer to the brink of a volcano," Mrs. Tilton asserted. "Music, liquor and all night parties lower the resistance of youth and too often they succumb."

Mrs. Tilton said she would offer the following plan for regulation of the road house:

That cities should refuse licenses to road houses until after a Protective Association examination of the applicant's past record;

That laws should be passed requiring a matron in every night club and road house where dancing and other amusements are indulged in;

That police should be allowed to enter any commercialized club without a warrant;

That each state should have a law enabling it to go over the heads of any community to revoke licenses.

The congress Wednesday went on record as opposed to the block booking of motion pictures as injurious to the morals of youth.

Saturday the board of managers of the congress is to decide upon the site of next year's convention. Denver and Des Moines are chief contenders for the honor.

BUT 4 COUNTIES AGAINST SMITH

At Continues to Pile Up California Votes In Tabulation

San Francisco, May 3.—Gov. Al Smith's overwhelming victory in California's Democratic primary election was further emphasized today as tabulation of returns proceeded.

While votes cast for Herbert Hoover, sole Republican candidate on the primary slate, continued to pile up into a huge total well over the half million mark, Smith's edge over the combined pool of his Democratic opponents, Senators James A. Reed and Thomas J. Walsh, maintained itself at approximately 30,000.

Reed running second to Gov. Smith had a lead over Walsh of approximately 13,000.

With tabulation complete in 7,790 precincts out of a total of 8,753 throughout the state, the revised vote count stood:

Hoover, 539,194
Smith, 128,762
Reed, 56,823
Walsh, 43,680

All but four of the 58 counties in the state returned Smith victorious in the Democratic voting, on the basis of returns already tabulated. Reed won two counties, Walsh one, and the fourth registered only Republican votes.

74-Year-Old Negro Messenger Boy Is Oldest In Service

Washington, May 3.—Edward Augustine Savoy, 74-year-old negro messenger boy for Secretary of State Kellogg, took his place today at the head of the government service roll.

He began his fifty-eighth year of continuous service, having entered the department as a manual laborer in 1871 during the administration of President Grant.

Despite his advanced years, Savoy served 13 years as general fixer about the cavernous state war and navy building before he attained the rank of "assistant messenger" in 1884. Fourteen years more and he rose to messenger.

In 1898 he was sent to France as chief messenger to the Paris peace commission, and upon his return in 1901, took up his present post at the inquiry desk outside the office of the secretary of state.

PREPARING FOR HOP TO SWEDEN VIA GREENLAND

Bert Hassell, Rockford, Ill., Flier, To Cross Little of Ocean

New York, May 3.—Bert Hassell, a big blonde aviator of Rockford, Ill., was in New York City today completing arrangements for his contemplated flight of 4,200 miles from Rockford to Stockholm, Sweden, by way of Greenland.

This far north route, in his opinion, "is the most feasible way to cross the ocean to Europe." "The longest stretch of water that I will have to span is 548 miles, a fact that obviously cuts down the danger of coming down in mid-ocean," said Hassell. "This is quite a contrast from the 1,900 miles of water that must be crossed in flying other trans-Atlantic routes."

"I am going to try and make Stockholm in two jumps. I will hop off from Rockford the latter part of June or early in July for Mount Evans, Greenland, a distance of 2,100 miles, and the only contemplated stop. From Mount Evans I will take off for Stockholm, an additional 2,100 miles."

Hassell will be accompanied by another pilot whose identity was not been disclosed. Before taking off from Rockford Hassell will be in radio communication with the Professor William H. Hobbs, of the University of Michigan who for the past four summers has conducted a meteorology station at Mount Evans.

ITALIA ON WAY TO SPITZBERGEN

Off On Second Leg of Its Flight to North Pole; Stop In Norway

Stockholm, May 3.—The dirigible Italia, escorted by Swedish naval planes, passed over this city at 10:45 a. m.

Stoip, Germany, May 3.—The dirigible Italia left Sweden hangars, near here today on the second leg of its flight to the North pole via King's bay, Spitzbergen, as its destination.

General Umberto Nobile, commander of the giant airship, stated that a landing might be made at Vadsoe, Norway, for refueling. Titiana, the fox terrier mascot of the Italia, accompanied Nobile and his crew of 16 on the flight.

The dirigible is expected to cover the 1600 miles to King's Bay in between 40 and 50 hours. Its cruising speed is about 60 miles an hour but this will be lessened greatly by expected headwinds.

The Norwegian government is keeping men in readiness to aid the Italia to make a landing at Vadsoe, if Nobile should decide to stop there. Vadsoe is about 900 miles north of here.

Charge Cleveland Stole Beef Hides

C. R. Smith, of Cleveland, plead guilty to a charge of grand larceny in Mayor Phil Hiddleston's court today and he was bound over to the grand jury on $500 bond.

Smith was charged with stealing beef hides and selling them in Canton. W. L. Fults brought the charge.

The trial of Sam Vogelhuber, Railroad st. set for 9 a. m., today was continued until later this week. Neither of Vogelhuber's attorneys were able to appear. A charge of possession of intoxicating liquor is filed against him.

Mayor Hiddleston was unable to set a definite date for his trial.

ALL-OHIO MINE UNION FAVORED BY OUSTED MEN

Charters Asked for Will Be Surrendered to Hall, Union Chief

SEEK TO PERFECT NEW WAGE SCALE

Independent Organization Will Negotiate For Immediate Work

Bellaire, O., May 3.—The voluntary surrender of a number of local union charters and strife between the two factions of the United Mine Workers of America Organization in Eastern Ohio loomed today as a result of the revocation of the charters of 17 local unions by Lee Hall, Ohio president.

At St. Clairsville, it was reported, over ten local unions were ready to surrender their charters to the national organization in order to perfect a new "all Ohio" state organization, independent of the United Mine Workers.

Many miners openly stated that they were highly in favor of a change in policy, that they were dissatisfied with John L. Lewis' administration, and that under present conditions, their "hands are tied in negotiations with operators."

See Immediate Work
With a state union, they said, negotiations with Ohio operations could be opened, a wage scale perfected and work resumed immediately.

Followers of the John Brophy "save the union" movement, which caused the ousting of the 17 locals because they refused to expel them, said they would not submit to expulsion from the union without a fight. Hundreds of thousands of dollars had been paid the national organization and nothing received in return but idleness while non union coal fields operated, leaders of the expelled unions alleged.

The expulsion of the unions in sub-district five was the second ousting by the United Mine Workers district executive board. Ora Daugherty was ousted as president of the Nelsonville sub-district on charges of insubordination and disloyalty on April 23. Several hundred union (Continued on Page 4)

Salem physicians have offered their services and time to the conference and it is hoped that all parents will take advantage of the opportunity. It is hoped by this conference to eliminate the handicaps with which some of the children enter school, and prepare them to do their best work.

The conference will be in charge of Mrs. Ruth Case, school nurse, and Dr. T. T. Church, city health commissioner.

They are valuable for their meat and are becoming extinct. Wild dogs and wild pigs, which destroy their eggs in their native haunts, will not be a menace here.

ON MAIN STREET

Sauk Centre, Minn., was rather staggered when Sinclair Lewis wrote it up as Gopher Prairie in his "Main Street." But the town brought up standing, and eventually profited by capitalizing the fame the author had given it. It broke out all over with Gopher Prairie Kandy Kitchens and Main Street Restaurants. People came from afar to see the original Main Street and its denizens, and spend their money there.

Now the town has gone a step further. It has just organized a Rotary club.

It seems inevitable to take the next obvious step. Surely Babbitt himself will appear and function in that club. Let Lewis and Mencken and their ilk sneer as they will—Sauk Centre will glory in its provincial obliquity.

Only one stop more remains, then, to make the cycle complete, which we hope Sauk Centre will not feel obliged to take. It can do without Elmer Gantry.

WHERE POLITENESS PAYS

Are you rude over the telephone? Do you yell into the transmitter because someone has called you at a very busy time?

How should the person who calls you know that you have been inconvenienced?

You expect courteous treatment, but often you don't give it.

You would not think of speaking to persons who come into your office as you do, often, to those who address you over the telephone.

Is there any reason why you should be less courteous on the telephone than you would be to callers? One of the most irritating offenders is the one who becomes angry because he cannot hear the person who is talking.

Sometimes it is the fault of the one who is speaking but often it is not.

Good breeding or the lack of it is apparent when you answer the telephone.

Cultivate a pleasing voice and show consideration in your telephone manners.

A MUSEUM EXHIBIT

The Spirit of St. Louis has made its final flight. Lindbergh flew it to Washington and placed it in the Smithsonian Institution. He has a new model.

This plane might have flown longer. It had made more than 40,000 miles, and was still going strong, patched and repaired more or less, but with its original body, wings and engine. It might have lasted like the famous One Hoss Shay. But its flying partner and senior member of the firm took no chances. Now the Spirit ends its active life with a flawless record, and will be preserved as it stands for future generations to see.

Only one other airplane is anywhere near so famous—the Wright brothers' plane that first flew under its own power. It rests now in the British Museum; may it come back to America, which produced it!

Millions upon millions of people, for centuries perhaps, will file past that little monoplane in the Washington museum, which looks so trim and handsome now and will look more and more primitive and queer as the ages pass. And as long as there are eyes to see it and imagination to realize what it means, it will stand as an enduring symbol. It will be the first plane that ever crossed the Atlantic in continuous flight from mainland to mainland. And it will be far more—a triumphant reminder of mechanical progress and human courage, which gave aviation its first big impetus.

What Others Say

THE UNKNOWN OCEAN

Perhaps the most significant things that Capt. Wilkins saw on his flight across America's half of the circumpolar sea were the two or three spots of smooth ice on which landings might have been made, if necessary. Even though the flight did not disclose the hoped-for spot or two of solid land large enough for a permanent weather station, it is probable, pending Capt. Wilkins' complete scientific report, that a significant amount of polar exploration by airplane is now proved possible, to add from selected landing spots on the ice itself. Merely to have traversed the Arctic wastes once more by air might have been deemed insufficient excuse, even by Capt. Wilkins himself, for the risk and cost of the trip. It is bits of vital information like the discovery of ice fields suitable for landings which made the crossing more than a mere epic of adventure.

Of the world's continents and the world's oceans one each remains unknown—The Antarctic continent and the Arctic ocean. In Arctic exploration two needs seem now paramount. First—and perhaps the more important—is need of better knowledge of Arctic weather. Some day great air liners will cross the polar icefields between London and Tokyo or between Alaska and New York. Before this can be done air currents and cloud banks must be charted far more accurately than now. The Arctic serves, too, as the great meteorological stew-pot in which are brewed the storms of North America and of Western Europe. As Prof. Hobbs desires to do with his plan of a permanent weather station in Greenland, it is desirable even for the weather services of temperate climates that we learn more of circumpolar winds and air pressures and cold.

The second need of Arctic research is better knowledge of the polar sea. How deep is that unknown ocean; what are its secret currents; how does its vast, deep reservoir affect the momentums of the tides in the more populous oceans around its borders? For these needed studies of the ocean, as for the improvement of Arctic weather records, it is essential that men be able to come and go across the polar ice almost as easily as they do, for example, through the length and breadth of Africa or South America. Surface travel in the Arctic has long been recognized as insufficient for these purposes. It is both too hazardous and too slow. Aircraft seem more promising. Dirigibles are able to hover over selected areas, and will have doubtless, their role to play. Swift airplanes like that of Capt. Wilkins, able to go and come quickly between possible landings on the ice and well-manned bases on surrounding lands, are likely to prove even more useful instruments of exploration. —New York Herald.

The Stars Say—

For Friday, May 4.

By Genevieve Kemble

THE adverse positions of important planets, particularly the opposition of the Luminaries to each other, presages a difficult and anxious day generally. Those in the employment of others should be especially on guard against meeting not advisable to approach those in authority for favors at this time. Also keep firm reins on tongue and temper.

Those whose birthday it is may not experience a very progressive or satisfactory year, unless they manage their affairs with much discretion and calmness. Impulse and turbulence will not attain much and may result in loss of property and position. Safeguard the employment. A child born on this day may be disposed to be quarrelsome and impulsive, thereby endangering its best interests in life. Careful training in self-restraint will assist to usefulness.

Who seeks for heaven alone to see his soul, may keep the path of will not reach the goal.

WEIGHT OF CHILDREN AN INDEX TO HEALTH

By Royal S. Copeland, M. D., United States Senator from New York, Former Commissioner of Health, New York City.

It is a sad commentary on our care of children that at least one-third of them are underweight and undernourished. No matter where we go, whether to Fifth ave. in New York or to the slums of the cities, we find the same percentage of underdeveloped children.

I can endure the sufferings of grown people with a fair degree of equanimity. But when I witness the discomfort and lack of normal growth of little children I am deeply stirred.

The serious part of this kind of undernourishment is that it effects run on into adult life. Unfitness in growth-ups is frequently the result of malnutrition in infancy.

There are two chief causes for undernourishment. The first one relates to bad food habits. The other is the presence of some uncorrected physical defect.

Too many children have some obstruction in the breathing apparatus. In consequence, in infancy there is marked interference with nursing. Catarrhal conditions, adenoids or other definite cause for obstruction are among the factors having to do with lessened air supply.

There cannot be proper assimilation of food or development of body unless there is an unfailing supply of pure air. That is one reason why ventilation is so important. The room occupied by a baby must be freshened constantly by an abundance of fresh air. It is even more important for a growing youngster to have air than it is for grown-up persons.

Unless matters like this are given attention, it won't be long before there are symptoms pointing conclusively to serious undernourishment. The child becomes irritable. The slightest effort tires. There is no endurance whatever.

Other signs are dark rings around the eyes. Instead of that wonderful complexion we admire in a sweet baby there may be waxy pallor of the skin. The mouth is open and the breathing is difficult and noisy. The glands may be enlarged.

You should watch the infant regularly. No household is quite complete in its equipment unless scale are provided. Without regular weighing there can be no accurate knowledge of what progress is being made. There must be steady increase in weight or there is something wrong.

If there is serious undernourishment and no growth whatever, the condition demands action. A blood test may reveal a condition which will explain the failure to grow. Your doctor will explain this to you.

The temperature may be disturbed. If it is, then more concern is warranted. But find out what is wrong so that appropriate treatment can be given.

Of course, the most common cause for underweight is something wrong about the food. There can be nothing haphazard in the feeding. It must be regular. It must consist of properly mixed foods. It must be varied with the age and condition of the child.

Everything else will fail if the cause of the underdevelopment relates to the food. You should talk with your family doctor about this matter. He will examine the child and see where you have failed in your handling of the food.

There cannot be satisfactory growth in height and weight unless

INVENTIONS AID NAVIGATION BY AIR OR THE SEA

Indiana Professor Works Out 2 Improvements For Science

Indianapolis, May 3. — Two improvements that may revolutionize the science of navigation and make it possible for airplane or ship pilots to determine their exact positions in 30 seconds, regardless of the visibility of the horizon, have been worked out by Professor W. A. Cogshall, of the astronomy department of Indiana university.

Both of the devices have been patented, and one of them is already in course of production by the Gaertner Scientific company of Chicago. Professor Cogshall is doing further experimental work with the second device.

Seeing the Horizon

Since the sextant was first invented, centuries ago, it has always been necessary to see the horizon before the altitude of a sun or star could be determined and the exact position of the navigator located on a chart, according to Professor Cogshall.

Finding of this altitude is absolutely essential in determining any fixed position on the earth and Cogshall's invention makes the finding scientifically accurate and much more simple than the present methods. The horizon from the air and on the sea is very indefinite, even when the visibility is good, consequently the improvements will materially aid all navigators.

Mechanical Computing

The instrument with which Professor Cogshall is still experimenting is for the mechanical selection of a spherical triangle which must be made to determine an exact position. After an observation has been made it is now necessary to consult a table of logarithms, which requires ten to twelve minutes by an expert mathematician, and requires extreme care while being done. It is almost impossible to do in a speeding airplane. With the new inventions it will be possible to make the computations mechanically and with absolute accuracy in thirty seconds, Cogshall said.

COURT NEWS

Verdict For Defendant

A jury in common pleas has returned a verdict for the defendants in a $25,000 damage suit. This is the second such verdict in two days.

George W. Knott, a minor, through his next friend, sued the Sebringville East Liverpool & Beaver Valley Traction Co., for $25,000 damages for personal injuries sustained when a car owned by the defendants struck an automobile in which the plaintiff was a passenger. This case lasted two days, and was won by the company.

Prisoner Is Sued

Hosey D. Denechew, of East Liverpool, now a prisoner in the county jail, having been committed by Mayor W. L. Fogo of Wellsville, has been sued for divorce by his wife Hazel Denechew, who in her petition declares that her husband threw a cuspidor at her March 25 last, then choked her and threatened to kill her. Denechew is also charged with gross neglect of duty.

The couple were married at Lisbon May 8, 1922, and two children are of issue, the final custody of which are sought by the plaintiff.

Agrees To Pay Wife

When the notice for temporary alimony was heard by Judge W. F. Lyles in the divorce action filed by Freda M. Vaughn against her husband Richard E. Vaughn, there was an agreement entered into whereby the defendant is to pay the plaintiff $50 on the temporary order.

A verdict for the plaintiff has been entered in common pleas No. 2. Judge William Crow of Millersburg presiding in the case of W. A. O'Grady of Wellsville against the Pennsylvania Railroad Co. Agrees To Value

George H. Huston, who with others was named defendant in a partition action filed in common pleas July 23, 1923 by James R. Jordan, has elected to take the property referred to in the petition at the appraised value. The court has ordered Sheriff George Wright to prepare a deed in this case. Attorney fees have also been determined.

Would be Citizen

CHARGES WETS WON FOR SMITH

Los Angeles, May 3.—Republican "wets" carried the Democratic primary for Gov. Al Smith, it was charged today by Milton K. Young, chairman of the Reed-for-president executive committee.

"A systematic effort was launched as soon as registration started on Jan. 1 to enroll Republicans as Democrats in order to roll up a big vote for Smith," said Young.

"The result clearly indicates that this has not been a Democratic primary wherein candidates have contested as Democrats, but that it has been Smith and Walsh, and on the other hand by Senator Reed running upon Democratic principles and honesty in government."

"The election has been distorted beyond resemblance of a Democratic primary by thirsty Republicans and misguided dyes who are willing to subordinate Democratic principles in an attempt to make the Democratic party a Prohibition party."

"Another feature of this election is the McAdoo element which sought to gain ascendancy by the candidacy of Walsh, resulting in a victory for Smith, which in all probability is not at all displeasing to Mr. Walsh himself. It remains to be seen whether southern and western Democrats will submit to such degradation upon the Democratic party at the Houston convention."

ICE and

foods at their best

THERE is no other refrigerator like ICE. You can depend upon it. In a good refrigerator it maintains a temperature cold enough to keep foods fresh, dry enough to prevent mold, and moist enough to retard the drying out of meat, cheese, butter and fruit.

It is nature's way of preserving the delicious juices and precious, elusive flavors of food.

It is important to have a good refrigerator. This does not necessarily mean an expensive model. You can get a thoroughly good one, correctly designed, tightly constructed and well insulated, at moderate cost. BULGAR CYCLONE INJURES MANY

Sofia, Bulgaria, May 3.—While relief workers and troops scoured the debris left by a terrific cyclone at Starazagora for possible dead, 70 persons who were injured in the catastrophe were being cared for today.

The cyclone left in its wake a devastated town. The residents, already having been through the horrors of numerous earthquakes recently, fled in panic.

GIRL STARS

she did not favor interscholastic competition for girls. She stressed the importance of proper supervision of athletics for women.

Hits Long Runs
Harry Maloney, president of the Pacific Athletic association, who has long been identified in promoting athletics among women on the Pacific coast, declared that he could not see any harm in women competing in certain kinds of athletic events.

"These events," he explained, "must be in keeping with the strength of women. Some track and field events are altogether too strenuous for them. One of the Olympic events for women—the 800-meter race—in my opinion, should be discarded. The idea of competition itself has my approval, however. Properly supervised, much good can come from it."

Although not touching upon competition, Miss Hazel Cuberly, of the University of California at Los Angeles, was enthusiastic in championing athletics for women.

"Participation in them," she said, "is teaching women the principles of fair play, self control and self discipline."

Some May Withdraw
Rome, May 3.—There were indications today that some of the girl athletes entered in the Fascist field sports beginning tomorrow, may withdraw as a result of the deep displeasure expressed by Pope Pius XI over young women taking part in public athletic contests.

The pontiff's disapproval was voiced in a letter to Cardinal Pompeii, vicar of Rome. He deplored the holdings of the first athletic competition for girls in Rome saying:

"The Roman bishops must all deplore that, after 20 centuries of Christianity, Rome is showing less respect for girls than pagan Rome did, for Pagan Rome excluded girls from athletic competitions."

ONE DEAD, THREE HURT IN PLANES

Michigan Youth Killed; Chicago Plane Falls Into a Tree

Sturgis, Mich., May 3.—Fred H. Newman, 16-year-old son of C. C. Newman, proprietor of the New Strand theater, was killed when the plane in which he was a passenger crashed to the ground. Lieut. Gerald Smead, the pilot, recently graduated from Kelley Field, Texas, was seriously hurt. Dewey A. Groes, 27, a passenger, was also probably fatally injured.

Chicago, May 3.—Two persons were reported dying today and a third was seriously injured as a result of an airplane crash.

Those believed fatally injured are Miss Doris Montgomery, 24, and Eugene Appelbaum, 24.

Dr. Milton H. Weir, pilot of the plane, was seriously hurt.

The trio had gone for a pleasure trip over the city. They were 600 feet above the Desplaines river when the plane was seen to go into a nosedive. It crashed into a tree, hung on the boughs for an instant and then toppled to the river's edge.

Dr. Weir, owner of the plane, was an unlicensed pilot. Miss Montgomery was a Galesburg, Ill., school teacher.

CUBANS DEMAND INDEPENDENCE

Havana, May 3.—The constitutional convention today took the first steps towards breaking the political link that has welded Cuba and the United States so closely together since the Spanish-American war.

Delegates to the convention demanded repeal of the permanent treaty with the United States known as the Platt amendment, which guarantees protection of foreign properties in Cuba and prevents Cuba from contracting a foreign loan without the consent of the Washington government.

DORAN BANS JUROR PROBES IN DRY CASES

Washington, May 3.—Prohibition administrators were instructed today by Commissioner J. M. Doran not to make investigations of jurors who might be called to try dry cases.

The action followed congressional criticism of Administrator John D. Pennington, of Pittsburgh, who sent out a questionnaire to determine the character, wealth, religion and political affiliations of prospective jurors.

The construction work will be started June 15, it was stated.

The cost of the work is to be divided between the state and city of Columbus, and the railroad. This is the first instance in the state where the Department of Highways is co-operating directly with the city and Railroad company in financing of a grade crossing elimination project.

Dressmakers Protest Girls' Long Skirts

Budapest, May 3.—Morals are growing better in Budapest but the dressmakers are unhappy about it.

A delegation of ladies' tailors held a mass meeting today to protest against the recent decree of the Hungarian minister of education prohibiting high school girls from wearing anything but long skirts and blouses with high necks. The dresses are uniform.

The dressmakers complain that this wave of morality will cost them thousands of dollars and deprive them of the business of making about 50,000 new dresses this year.

SUES TO HALT BLOCK BOOKING

Cleveland Movie Concern Seeks Injunction In Film Controversy

Cleveland, May 3.—An injunction suit, said to be the first of its kind here, was on file in federal court today asking that the motion picture Producers and Distributors of America, headed by Will H. Hays, be restrained from "Block Booking" films.

The suit filed by a Cleveland subsidiary of the Variety Amusement Company owning theatres throughout the state, under the Sherman Anti-Trust and the Clayton acts and alleging conspiracy in restraint of trade, is the aftermath of a fight begun last fall in New York when a protest against the alleged system was filed with the Federal Trade Commission.

A bill to abolish the "system" is now pending in congress as a result of a meeting of independent exhibitors with the Interstate Commerce Commission in Washington last March.

Federal Judge D. C. Westenhaver will hear the suit here May 14.

BANDITS SEIZE MINE ENGINEER

Mexico City, May 3.—James W. Wilson, an American mining engineer has been seized and carried off by Mexican bandits near Chihuahua, state of Guerrero, said a dispatch received here today. The kidnapping took place on Tuesday.

men were dismissed with him on similar charges.

Open Several Mines
A petition asking for a special sub-district convention at Bellaire was in the hands of sub-district five officials today. Representatives of the 17 ousted local unions asked that the convention be held here on May 9.

Official notice of the revocation of the 17 charters of the local organizations had not yet been received today and the expelled members were awaiting its arrival. They said they would meet in convention on May 9, whether or not an official call was made by sub-district United Mine Workers of America officials.

In the meantime, coal mine operators were preparing to launch mining operations after having been idle from one to two years, many were at work at the Caldwell mine of the Cambridge Collieries company and the Imperial mine of the Forsythe Coal company in Noble county.

Appeal For Labor

Columbus, May 3.—An appeal for mine labor was being broadcast today by the Monroe Coal Company of Bellaire, for the Webb mine, through advertisement in Columbus newspapers.

The coal company offered day men five dollars per day, with other work in proportion, steady employment, five foot seam, good board and lodging, and open shop, and "federal protection."

RETIREMENT

under Mellon. Now the Democratic party in the senate has demanded a halt, the elimination of wartime taxes and a return to the original debt retirement program.

In the background of the tax battle lay an administration warning that the treasury can stand only a $210,000,000 slash this year without incurring a deficit next year.

This limit, however, was fixed with large appropriations by congress in mind. If the appropriations should fail, including those estimated for farm relief and flood control, the surplus at the end of next year probably would equal the $600,000,000 surplus which now is in the treasury. All this $600,000,000 probably will go to debt retirement, regardless of the final decision on the amount of tax reduction.

Corporation taxes the so-called stamp taxes and club dues taxes will bear the brunt of the senate battle. Both Republicans and Democrats have agreed to repeal automobile taxes, at a saving of $65,000,000 to motorists, and to increase exemptions from admission taxes. The Democrats, however, would entirely repeal the amusement tax. Three dollar exemption would be allowed by the Republicans.

On the corporations the Republicans would cut the tax to 12½ per cent, while the Democrats hold out for the house figure of 11½ per cent.

Houston—Five thousand loads of muckruts are expected to look over the Democratic convention. Tourists camps with a total of 20 miles of streets are to be constructed.

Growing Children

sometimes require a tonic as do their elders *

GIVE your child the right chance to develop, and you will not regret it in later years.

Many children become under-nourished due to lack of appetite. Keep the appetite keen. Food nourishes the body and makes it grow.

Also watch Nature's warning for changes in the system. Skin troubles—pimples, boils and that sallow complexion—all foretell a body weakness.

In such cases, S.S.S. is the proper tonic. It improves the appetite; helps Nature build rich, red blood cells—those vitalizing elements in the blood that build and sustain the body.

In building rich, red blood cells, S.S.S. improves the processes by which the body is nourished.

For more than 100 years S.S.S. has been helping children and their elders regain strength and vitality.

Children like S.S.S. It is made from the fresh roots of medicinal herbs and plants, and is prepared in a scientific way in a modern laboratory.

All drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Get the larger size. It is more economical.

* The physical welfare of the child is being given more attention by school authorities. Failure to keep up with class work and absence from school is probably due to a nervousness and rundown condition that may be largely attributed to a deficiency in red blood cells.

TRANSITS ACTIVE

New York, May 3.—New York City transit stocks were active and strong at the opening of the market today. Interborough Rapid Transit jumped 3 points and reached a new high. 62 and Third Avenue Railway advanced 1 to 46. Brooklyn and Manhattan Transit sold unchanged at 77. Prices elsewhere were irregular, with the rail shares displaying an easier tone. Southern Railway declined 1 1/4 to 159 1/4. New York, New Haven & Hartford 68, down 1/4, and St. Louis-San Francisco 120 1/2, down 1/4. General Motors sold initially at 193, up 1 1/4, while Hudson Motor dropped 1/2 to 90 1/4 and Hupp Motor lost 1/4 to 51 1/4. Packard at 69 1/4 and Studebaker at 66 1/4, were each up 1/4 point. U. S. Steel was higher by 1/4 at 146 and Victor Talking Machine rose a point to 96.

The Interboro Transit company's victory in the first round of the 7-cent-fare fight stimulated active buying of the local traction stocks at the beginning of trading today. Interboro, Brooklyn - Manhattan, Third Avenue and Manhattan elevated were in demand in 1 to 3 points higher, Interboro reaching a new high at 62, which compares with January's low at 29, the stock having in the meantime confidently "discounted" the expected favorable court decision in the fare case.

Stock of the motor and oil companies appeared to be gathering momentum for a new advance. General Motors responding with higher prices to the forecasts of an extra cash distribution to be ordered at the directors' meeting next Thursday. Standard Oil of New Jersey lost ground, but Standard of New York held steadily around 39.

Business and industrial reports were unchanged in general tenor from those of the last few days. The traction stocks encountered considerable profit-taking in the second hour, and were unable to gain further ground. Forward movement of from 70 to 100 per cent of January values had already discounted the favorable court decision. Wall street having shrewdly cast the company's success.

Armour Class A and B. Park Utah Mining Nevada Copper and other low priced specialties moved forward a point or two in active trading. Call money was unchanged at 5 per cent.

DENY DONAHEY TOUR POLITICAL

Wife of Governor Ill Say Attaches At Office In Columbus

Columbus, O., May 3.—Denying the report that Governor Vic Donahey is on a motor trip through the south for political purposes, attaches of the governor's office today indicated that the present Donahey tour was designed to benefit Mrs. Donahey's health.

The governor and Mrs. Donahey, accompanied by their son James, 18, as driver, left here Tuesday, by auto, on a trip which may last several weeks. Their itinerary was not disclosed.

It was stated today that the Donaheys have gone into the southland, by way of Cincinnati, with Miami, Fla., as possibly the objective point. Depending upon the desires of Mrs. Donahey, it was indicated, however, they may visit Cuba before returning to Columbus.

Some weeks ago, Mrs. Donahey and her daughter, Mrs. James Huffman, Columbus, were severely injured in an auto accident near here. Mrs. Donahey, it was stated, suffered quite a nervous shock.

KNAPP TRIAL IS ON TODAY

Court House, Albany, N. Y., May 3.—Denouncing Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former secretary of state, as a "thief who defrauded the state out of thousands of dollars," George Z. Medalle, special deputy attorney general, today opened the state's case against New York's first woman state official.

Supreme Court Justice Stephen Callaghan and the jury listened intently as the state's prosecution unmercifully flayed Mrs. Knapp for her alleged juggling of the $1,200,000 census fund.

Mrs. Knapp is on trial on a charge of stealing a $2,875 census check made payable to her step-daughter, Clara Blanche Knapp.

Baseball Bat Kills 4-Year-Old Boy

Chicago, May 3.—Dreams of Harry Chezone, 6, to become a big league ball player ended today in tragedy.

Harry coaxed his brother, Jimmy, 4, to play ball with him. While swinging at a "fast one," the bat flew out of Harry's hands and struck Jimmy in the abdomen.

Jimmy died two hours later.

FLOOD RELIEF BILL APPROVED

Washington, May 3.—The senate and house conferees today approved the $325,000,000 Jones-Reid flood control bill and recommended its immediate passage by congress.

The conferees accepted most of the major amendments adopted by the house to the senate bill. Some changes were made with a view to meeting the objections of President Coolidge who has threatened to veto the bill unless the contributions required of the states affected are increased.

Under the bill, the federal government would bear practically the entire cost of flood prevention work in the Mississippi valley.

Free Lot Schemes Are Frowned Upon By State Realtors

Cleveland, May 3.—A rule specifying that any operator or salesman engaging in a "free lot" scheme in the state would be refused a license forever, is to be promulgated by the Ohio Board of Real Estate Examiners, according to Chairman J. W. Jacoby.

Jacoby's announcement followed the closing meeting of the board here yesterday, during which several cases involving brokers and allotment operators who were up for unethical advertising, were heard.

"We do not believe that offering of so-called 'free lots' as a means of obtaining prospective buyers for higher priced lots is square," Jacoby declared.

Brown Disregards Factions In Putnam

Columbus, O., May 3.—Disregarding recommendations made by two factions of the Putnam county Republican executive committee, Secretary of State Clarence Brown today announced his appointment of Mrs. Myrtle B. Edwards, Leipsic, as a Republican member of the Putnam county board of elections for a two-year term beginning last Tuesday.

Brown declared that members of the county committee switched back and forth between two candidates five times and that some of the members raised the cry of "fraud" in connection with the recommendation of a rival candidate. Brown said he became "disgusted" with the actions of committee members.

Wolf Skull, Rifle Adorn Memorial To Russian Hero

Semipalatinsk, Siberia, May 3.—All northern Siberia where the sun is beginning to shine three hours a day after a long dark winter, is talking about Konstantine, a peasant, who fought the season's most heroic battle with wolves and lost.

Konstantine drove into a pack of ferocious Siberian wolves on a lonely road 100 miles north of here. His horse broke loose and fled in fright dumping him on the road with his rifle. He backed up against a snowdrift and faced the beasts. He shot three in succession and the pack devoured its dead comrades before advancing on him.

Konstantine evidently kept this up eight times because a searching party which found nothing but his skeleton, rifle and bits of clothing, detected the bones of at least 24 wolves in little heaps on a trail leading to his own remains from a distance of 100 feet.

Peasants of the neighborhood will erect a monument to the hero of the North, commenting the rifle into the base of a stone slab and mounting a wolf's skull on top.

LEETONIA

Mrs. E. P. Stonebraker entertained at a charmingly appointed party on Tuesday evening at her home, East Columbia st. in honor of the brides and brides-to-be of the wedding force of the Leetonia schools.

The guest list included all the women teachers of the schools, these especially honored being the Misses Roma Degnan, Mabel Guiler and June Cunningham, who will be married at the close of the school year; and Mrs. Melvin Culp, who was Miss Elizabeth Hoffmeister until March of this year, and Mrs. Earl Knick, nee Miss Jessie Sawhill, who was married in May, 1927, the marriage being kept a secret until Monday of this week.

Other guests were Mrs. Ross Melinger, Mrs. James S. Hall and Mrs. George R. Johnson.

The evening was most enjoyable spent in first making booklets, being the history of the teachers, each one being given a name and using pictures in making the books. A contest, "Grandmother's work basket" was held, making names of articles in a work basket from jumbled letters.

Delicious refreshments were then served, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Hall, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Melinger. After this the ribbons from a May pole were unwound by the present and at the end of the ribbon a gift was found.

The monthly business meeting of the Kiwanis club was held Tuesday evening at the Methodist parish house where the Busy Bee society served the dinner. The meeting was presided over by the president, R. C. Harrold.

Reports of the committees were given and several talks were given by those interested in straightening and deepening the channel of the Cherry Valley creek. This creek having its course through the village has been overflowing and causing a lot of damage during the rainy season this spring.

On Tuesday the class of young ladies of St. Paul's Lutheran Sunday school taught by Mrs. C. J. Halverstadt enjoyed a covered dish dinner at the home of their teacher.

HERE'S SPEEDY RELIEF FROM BUNION PAINS AND SOFT CORNS

Get a two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) today. Every well stocked drug store has this, with the distinct understanding that your money will be cheerfully returned if it does not reduce the inflammation, soreness and pain much quicker than any remedy you ever used.

Two or three applications of Moone's Emerald Oil and in 15 minutes the pain and soreness disappears. A few more applications at regular intervals and the inflammation is gone.

And as for Soft Corns a few applications each night at bed time and they just seem to shrivel right up and scale off. No matter how discouraged you have been with pads, shields, or other applications, if you have not tried Emerald Oil then you have something to learn.

It's a wonderful formula—this combination of essential oils with camphor and other antiseptics, so marvelous that thousands of bunion sufferers are sold annually for reducing varicose or swollen veins. Lease Drug Co., Fleming's Drug Store and Bolger and French and every good druggist guarantees the first bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil to end your foot troubles or money back.

"SHANGHAI BOUND"
Richard Dix has landed and reports the situation well in hand. Down the Yangtze River in a dirty Chinese river boat, Dix comes with a cargo of American refugees fleeing from hunger-mad patriots. And he brings his boat to safety, too, but only after one of the most thrilling fights seen on local screens this year.

The picture is "Shanghai Bound" Dix's newest Paramount starring vehicle, the current feature at the State. It proves a worthy successor to "The Quarterback," "Knock-out Reilly" and "Man Power," the recent hits that have lifted Dix to such lofty heights of popularity.

The supporting cast is exceptionally good. Evidently Dix insists that his pictures have able players in them. Mary Brian, who played in two of his recent pictures, is again the leading woman in this one. As an American society girl, she has one of the best roles of her career. Other players are well cast, including the 150 Chinese who are seen in the atmospheric scenes.

But to Dix goes the major credit, of course. He appears as Jim Bucklin, captain of the "Pan Tan" Yangtze steamer. Up the river he finds a party of Americans. Down the river he takes them to the haven of Shanghai's protected zone. There's fighting all the way down, with Dix in the midst of it, in a fast-moving, teeth-gritting role that fits his talents perfectly.

AT THE GRAND
"Beau Geste," the thrilling story of romance, mystery and adventure in the French Foreign Legion with the theme of the devotion of three brothers powerfully depicted will be shown tonight at the grand for the final time.

Ronald Colman plays the title

THERE is nothing quite like Bayer Aspirin for all sorts of aches and pains, but be sure it is genuine Bayer; that name must be on the package, and on every tablet. Bayer is genuine, and the word genuine—in red—is on every box. You can't go wrong if you will just look at the box when you buy it.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monaceticacidester of Salicylicacid part, that of the eldest of three brothers who each leave home without telling the others, to enlist in the French Foreign Legion under assumed names in order to shield each other from the blame for the theft of a famous sapphire. Neil Hamilton and Ralph Forbes enact the other brothers.

The brave defense by 40 legionnaires of a lonely fort in the Sahara when it is attacked by countless hordes of mounted desert warriors. Touaregs, brings the story to its climax. It also causes Noah Berry, the brutal adjutant, "the cruellest beast and bravest soldier" in the Legion, to reach the pinnacle of his notable screen career.

Other prominent players in "Beau Geste" include Alice Joyce, Mary Brian, William Powell, Norman Trevor and Victor McLaglan.

Unable to stand idle and see his family name banded from mouth to mouth, Buck Jones, Fox Films star, in his latest release, "The Branded Sinner," which opens at the Grand Friday, tears through some impressive scenes. Throwing all thought of safety to the four winds, Buck gives one of his finest portrayals as Starr Hallett, the adopted son of "Honest" John Hallett.

STYLE EDICTS

Paris, May 3.—White evening gowns are second to black ones in popularity this season and being worn by matron as well as maid, showing that not the slightest trace of the color-line now remains in the fashion world.

They come in georgette, crepe satin, crepe de Chine, old-fashioned heavy satin and moire. Jean Patou has any number of white evening gowns in his new collection, not only in pure white, but in the indescribably deep cream shade he has called "egg-shell." One in lustrous satin is a suitable for the girl of 15 as the woman of 50. It has a long double jabot in the center of the back, giving a very chic irregular line. The décolleté is a deep U.

Dainty frocks of white georgette come elaborately embroidered or with no trimming at all. One has both skirt and bodice composed of two wide straight tiers of the material arranged on a slightly diagonal line with the loose ends falling in graceful points at the side. Another is embroidered all-over in little pendants.

Paul Caret is showing a very smart white satin frock embroidered all over in single rhinestones, made with a plain bodice corded around the waist to form a girdle with two long points set closely together in the middle of the skirt at the back. Another is embroidered in crystal-encrusted bands of crystal beads, each band ending in a flat tassel of the beads forming an interesting decoration on either side of the skirt.

White moire is exceptionally chic with a plain bodice and series of white tufts sews flat around the front and sides at the almost normal waistline and falling loose at the back to form wide loops and ends that reach to the edge of the skirt.

Baby Morley wears a charming white georgette in her latest play, "Le Secret," now running at the Gynnae theatre on the boulevards.

THE HOME KITCHEN

By Jeannette Young Norton

Serving Dessert Salads

With the approach of warm weather dessert salads are gaining in favor. The use of these salads combine the two courses, salad and dessert, making a satisfactory finish for a hearty meal. For these salads the citrus fruits furnish the greatest variety of combinations. Not only are they tempting in taste, but they furnish the alkaline and protein needs in the diet. Though many prefer the French dressing made with lemon juice instead of vinegar, the white mayonnaise, made without mustard, or the boiled dressing is generally used.

Frozen Orange Salad

Dissolve two teaspoonsful of powdered gelatin in two teaspoonsful of water. Set over hot water, or the teakettle to melt. Beat in a small cupful of white mayonnaise, a cupful of whipped cream, two table-spoonsful of sifted powdered sugar and two cupfuls of orange pulp freed from all skin. When mixed stir in a cupful of seeded and peeled white grapes. Turn into a wet mould and cover and seal tightly, then bury in salt and ice for four hours. Unmould on large green lettuce leaves that have been carefully washed and dried, and garnish with halved and seeded white grapes and drained maraschino cherries. Serve with a little whipped cream to which a little whipped cream may be added to make it foamy.

Orange, Grapefruit Salad

Prepare the pulp of two grapefruit, freed from all skin, in as large pieces as possible. Free six oranges from the skin in the same way and put the fruit in a white sieve over a bowl to stand and chill. Meantime, halve and seed a cupful of white grapes and dice a cupful of fresh pineapple and put in with the orange mixture to drain and chill. When ready sprinkle the fruit with a table-spoonful of sifted powdered sugar, mix with white mayonnaise, or boiled dressing and arrange on lettuce leaves. Garnish with balls of highly seasoned cream cheese with a half walnut each side of them, so they resemble candies and sprays of fresh crisp watercress.

Zollinger's Greater May Festival

Zollinger's sale of new things at bargain prices will be in progress May 2 to 12, offering the greatest variety of merchandise in our history at prices that mean worth-while savings.

Every section of the store is prepared to give bargains that cannot be duplicated in this vicinity, even in this season of spring sales.

We do not call the Festival a sale, because it is not a sale — it is a presentation of style-right, up-to-the-minute merchandise, new and smart, priced below our regular price.

The Festival offers new merchandise, not old merchandise that has been re-priced for clearance, but new merchandise that is so desirable that it could bring quite a bit more than the Festival price.

You will revel in the large groups of merchandise, just the items you want to buy now, all priced at figures that will be a pleasant surprise.

It will pay you to come miles and miles during Zollinger's Greater May Festival, May 2 to 12.

TWO HITS GIVE GAME TO GIANTS

Both are Homers Off Robins' Hurler, Elliott, Who Does Well

New York, May 3.—Jumbo Elliott, Brooklyn southpaw allowed the New York Giants only two hits in seven innings yesterday, but both were home runs and gave the league leaders a 2 to 1 victory, their third straight triumph over the battered Brooklynites.

The homers were made by Jahn and Lindstrom. With 19 circuit cloys in 13 games, the Giants are the leading home run hitting outfit in the majors. The Chicago Cubs are second with 14.

In his last previous start, Elliott had held the Boston Braves to three hits in nine innings. He met his master yesterday in Larry Benton, who yielded but four hits.

Owen Carroll of Detroit, held the White Sox to four hits, winning 7 to 1 and incidentally stopping Bill Cissell, who had hit safely in 15 consecutive games. Sam Gray, former Mackman who has won five games for the St. Louis Browns, also allowed only four hits in white, washing the Cleveland Indians, 7 to 0.

His victim was George Uhle, who had won four straight games. After having won six straight, the New York Yankees were halted by two of their former playmates, Sad Samuel Jones and Garland Braxton.

The Washington Senators slugged their way to a 9 to 5 win over the champions and ended their own losing streak of eight games.

This same ability to beat a major rival has made Cincinnati and Pittsburgh what they are today in the National League standing. The Reds have lost to St. Louis only once in six starts.

Yesterday the Pirates nosed out the Cubs, 9 to 8. Walker's triple with the bases full, following two errors by Frisch, enabled the Reds to turn back the Cardinals, 6 to 4.

Cincinnati is now in second place. The Boston Braves banged away at Benjie Rennie Philly twirler, but made little headway except in one inning and lost by a 9 to 2 score. Cy Williams got a homer.

The Red Sox did not lose to the Athletics. It rained.

Masonic Team and United Cigars to be Honored By Kelley

Basketball trophies for the first and second place winners in the basketball league were received by Ned M. Kelley, Wednesday and will be awarded at a banquet of the league next week.

Gold charms will be presented to the championship team members, the Masons and silver charms to members of the United Cigars runners-up. A silver basketball trophy will be awarded to the Masons.

Kelley hopes to have the banquet some evening next week, and he is seeing the manager of each team personally for a list of players who will be invited to it. Only those teams having paid their entrance fee will be invited, and if a sufficient number do not sign to be present, it will be called off.

In that case the awards will be made this week, without any ceremonies.

SCHOOL NOT TO SANCTION NEW BASEBALL TEAM

The baseball team, announced as the Salem High school team, will not be sanctioned by the school unless only students eligible to participate play Athletic Director W. J. Springer announced today.

Springer stated that he had had no knowledge of the organization of the team, and said it would not be permitted to represent the school without its sanction.

Several of the candidates for the team are ineligible, including George "Sim" Earley, captain-elect. This semester is Earley's ninth in school and he is automatically barred.

If a team is organized with the same personnel it has now, after Springer's ultimatum, it would be considered independent of the school.

Fire Will Not Stop State Golf Tourney At Youngstown Club

Youngstown, May 3.—The annual Ohio State Amateur Golf tournament, during the week of June 25, will be held at the Youngstown Country Club despite Wednesday's fire which nearly destroyed the club house.

This was the opinion of officials of the club today. A conference for the purpose of determining what action will be taken, is scheduled for tomorrow.

Home Runs Feature School Girls' Game

Wellsey won its fourth consecutive game in the Salem High girls' four baseball league, defeating Vassar yesterday, 25-15. Buck and Kent starred at bat, hitting three home runs each for the only circuit hits of the game. S. Lutsch played a stellar game behind the bat.

San Francisco — Rudolph Friml, light opera composer, plans to take his third wife, (the present Mrs. Friml) and also his second wife to Paris and "stage a party" with his first wife, who lives there.

INTERSECTIONAL GAMES START IN MAJORS FRIDAY

By DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, May 3.—After giving its customary slapstick prelude of early April, major league baseball may be depended upon to settle down to legitimate roles in the next fortnight, beginning tomorrow with the first of the east-west intersectional meetings.

Always a show-down of authority, the intersectional factor will serve its usual purpose this time in temporarily answering a few pertinent questions.

For one thing, it may determine definitely and to all practical purposes whether clubs like the Cleveland Indians, St. Louis Browns and Brooklyn Dodgers belong where they happen to find themselves today or merely are occupying first division positions by the gratuity of "squatters' rights."

For another, it may show just how far John McGraw can hope to go with his Giants this season. The club is moving west today in first place regardless of injuries to O'Doul and Walker and the failure of Vic Aldridge to report. But it got where it is by pushing the Braves, Dodgers and Phillies around and, if that kind has anything, then, Coogan's bluff is something that ought to be called.

All the speed of the National League field, barring the Giants, is in the west. Therefore, their next 16 ball games figure to prove just what they are—four out of five.

Reds Playing Great Ball

The Giants open their western invasion in Cincinnati tomorrow—then they double back to Pittsburgh jump over to Chicago and finish in St. Louis. The Reds, getting real pitching again, are playing the kind of baseball they showed in 1926 when they chased the Cardinals in.

The Pirates apparently have come back from an indifferent break from the barrier and seem headed for the first division. The Cubs aren't hitting, but the chances are they will be ready by the time the Giants reach Chicago. The Cards are running pretty true to form.

The Giants, of course, will be taking on a recognized contender in each series. The three other western clubs, meantime, will be fattening on the Phils, a natural victim; the Braves, who are shot up like a bull's eye with injuries and illness, and the Dodgers, who are beginning to discover that baseball requires a minimum of nine (9) ball players. The Dodgers figure to tumble out of second place.

With little help available from the other eastern clubs, the Giants will do very well to return home, running one-two, but the west will find the McGraw entry hard to catch for a month or so, if it is still in first place when it reaches the Polo grounds again.

St. Louis will open in Washington tomorrow. The Indians, meantime, will be asked to meet the Red Sox and will reluctantly consent. However, the Browns next stop will be Philadelphia and the Indians' next the Yankee stadium.

RISKY MAY GO IN AGAIN WITH JACK SHARKEY

Cleveland, May 3.—Danny Dunn, manager of Johnny Risko, returned from New York late Wednesday where he said he conferred with Promoter Tex Rickard.

"Rickard advised me not to make any definite plans until he has a conference with Dempsey when Jack comes to New York again," Dunn told Cleveland friends. "He also asked me if we'd like to take Jack Sharkey on for another bout."

Dunn said he told Rickard he preferred Dempsey but that "if Dempsey is really through, we might go through with another Sharkey fight."

ANOTHER BOXING SHOW FOR SALEM

Mullins Club Likely To Arrange Next Card In June or July

Another boxing show for this month seems very doubtful, and it is almost certain that boxing fans of this vicinity will have to wait until June or July for another card to be seen in Salem.

Matchmakers of the Mullins Foremen's club states that they are not figuring on a show for May, but are strong for one within the next two months. Both of the clubs' previous shows came out very successfully financially and otherwise, and the club is willing to sponsor the shows as long as the public is satisfied.

There is no doubt about this last, both of the shows were satisfactory in every way to the public, and fans are strong for another one.

Close to 1,000 paid admissions were received by the Foremen's club in their last card, and around 800 in March. The best boxers in the country cannot be obtained for the prices that a sponsoring organization in Salem can pay, but the two shows in Salem proved that the fight game can be put on with success without hiring the country's best.

U. S. ARCHITECTS MOVING TO SAVE OLD LANDMARKS

Institute Takes Lead In Effort To Halt All Cases of Vandalism

Washington, May 3. — America's vanishing landmarks—the gray and mossy old buildings and monuments around which so much tradition of the country's past is entwined—must be saved.

The American Institute of Architects has undertaken to lead this movement, according to A. Lawrence Kocher, chairman of the association's committee on the Preservation of Historic Monuments and Natural Resources.

"The Institute plans to consolidate the efforts of state and country historical societies, fine arts commissions and patriotic organizations," Kocher said.

Already we have protested against cases of vandalism and have taken steps to affiliate ourselves with the British Council for the Preservation of Rural England, whose effort will parallel ours."

Save Old Buildings
The support of more than 3,000 members of the architects' society has been enlisted. A graphic presentation of the actual and threatened tragedies among the historical structures of the country will be prepared.

Commerce and the greatly increasing valuation of property in the hearts of the large cities, and of the smaller ones too, are the chief enemies of the effort to maintain historical buildings.

Annapolis, Maryland, an old city rich in tradition, while not without changes has held on remarkably to the atmosphere of its architectural origin, according to Kocher. It has retained its wealth of pre-Revolutionary dwellings with some of the charm of the colonial village.

"However, several of the historical houses of old Annapolis are on the auction block," Kocher said. "St. John's College, dating back in its founding to the days of William and Mary, is seeking to acquire the Hammond-Harwood, the Brice, Peggy Stewart and Pinkney Houses, as a part of its holdings."

"While the efforts of this school are of a private nature, nevertheless the acquisition of these houses would mean the preservation by reverent hands of some of America's finest monuments."

Regional Organizations
Kocher pointed out that the problem is one of finance. Public finance he added, can assure the saving of these dwellings and appropriately make possible their use as a part of our third oldest institution of higher learning. A modest sum, as benefactions go nowadays should

Methodist Bishops Hit Companionate Marriage At Parley

Kansas City, Mo., May 3.—Condemnation of companionate marriage, a ringing denunciation of degrading literature and the obscene tendency of the theater, a firm stand for prohibition, a definite charge to pastors to bring their indifferent church members back into the church or drop them from the membership fold, and a plea for greater Christian unity were contained in the Episcopal address of the bishops of the Methodist Episcopal church read before the quadrennial general conference in session here.

Nothing of human origin, whether civic or ecclesiastical, is too sacred for scrutiny and criticism and the warrant for denunciation continuance is in the service actually rendered to the present age, the address set forth.

The Episcopal address, a printed document 57 pages in length, is to the general conference what the president's message is to congress—a minute review of church progress in its world parish and a declaration on future policy and action. The address was read by Bishop Luther B. Wilson of New York.

STATE EXTENDS DENTAL COURSE TO SIX YEARS

Columbus, May 3.—Dental students of Ohio State university in the future will be required to take a six-year course before they will be granted a degree, a recent ruling of the College of Dentistry provides.

The new plan to be established at the start of the fall quarter, next September lengthens the present course in the professional school by one year in which the students are eligible for graduation.

Entrance requirements at Ohio State in the dental college are recognized as being as strict as any college in the country. The rapid strides of the College of Dentistry has taken toward higher scholastic attainment is shown in the fact that only seven per cent of the graduates in the past 20 years have failed to pass the state board examinations.

Do you know that May 1st is a national holiday in Czechoslovakia? It doesn't make a bit of difference to us, but we thought we'd put it in here to fill space.

We've just heard of a man in this vicinity who taught his wife to drive the family car without resorting to profanity. Don't believe a word of it!

As summer comes we now surmise, it'll soon be time to swat the flies.

It's not hard to tell that Salem is right in the grip of the housecleaning season. Rugs out on the lawn—bedding out airing—and what have you! Then too, people are coming in here for all kinds of cleaning needs. Who can remember when the watering trough here in Salem was the filling station, and people dreaded to start out on the road with a horse and buggy for fear they'd meet an auto?

Do you realize that this year is one-third gone?

The HUDSON Victoria Creating Sensational Interest

The Hudson Victoria has everywhere met an eager acceptance that stamps it one of the most popular models Hudson ever built. Its low, sweeping lines, lustrous colors and spirited grace in action, pick it out in the big parade with vivid distinction.

The interior finish and arrangement, hundreds of buyers tell us, is the roomiest and most comfortable ever provided in this type of car. The driver's seat and companion front seat are high-backed, form-fitting and deeply upholstered.

The rear seat is ample for two, with exceptionally comfortable riding position and plenty of leg room. Every detail is of silenced construction, extending even to the insulated door construction of exclusive design.

The Victoria is but one of the brilliant new models responsible for the definite leadership in mode which Hudson has set.

In the beautifully designed and luxuriously finished bodies that feature all new Hudson Super-Sixes, the same relation of values obtain as made the Super-Six chassis famous. A single ride will revise your whole knowledge of automobile values.
